

The Forests Dialogue

STEERING COMMITTEE MEMBER

Chris Meyer

Meyer leads EDF's advocacy efforts in the REDD+ negotiations in the UNFCCC and REDD+ policy making and implementation funding programs such as the Forest Carbon Partnership Facility and UN-REDD program. In addition to his REDD+ policy advocacy, Meyer recently co-authored an article in the Journal of Sustainable Forestry on Zero-Deforestation Zones, a framework on how to align REDD+ policy and zero-deforestation supply chain efforts. Before joining EDF, Chris worked on coffee and micro-enterprise development in Panama as a Peace Corps volunteer. He earned his M.A. in International Relations and international development from John Hopkins' School for Advanced International Studies in Washington DC. He holds a BBA in Finance from the University of Portland.
